Christmas function 2 December 2023

Almost everyone arrived early at Enzos. Many had dressed up very Christmassy from a badly wrapped present to the Santas helper. The elves were certainly in attendance! There was so much food, we nearly burst.

The best Christmassy dressed were Anne Mattison, Denise McKay and Anne Wilson. Congratulations!

Christmas breakfast December 10 2023

It was a very warm Saturday morning for a walk. And the usual sumptuous breakfast at Oatley Park. Thanks Maureen for a wonderful spread. And the curried egg sandwiches disappeared very quickly!

Bundanoon Weekend away 3-4 November 2023

The weather did not look kind...forecast showers all weekend Social sub committee meeting on Thursday before lift off and decided on alternative plans if there was bad weather...... Members were asked to bring UNO and other games.

The weather on Friday was lovely and everyone arrived safely, enjoying the atmosphere.....until Laura picked up the keys in her room and pulled the door shut. Then looked at her keys, horror, Laura had picked up her house keys, not her room keys. At reception Laura was told there was no master key to the room, but they could get a man with a ladder to climb through the window. So that was done. See photos below.

So began the weekend.....Early that evening a cavelcade of cars went to the Bundanoon club for an early dinner before going to the glow worm caves. The Peakies not going to the caves joined us later after a walk around the area, led by Carol.

Food was good and and company better.

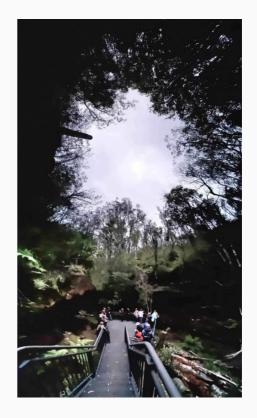

After dinner the group went to the glow worm caves. The gloworms eventually came out. All of us had to be very quiet.. a miracle

The next morning many hardy peakies and friends woke up to a misty day, ready for an early morning walk-in Morton national park.

After the walk we all dispersed for breakfast in local cafes.

Thanks to Glenn for most of these photos. On the right you can see the view!

After the walk, it was free time until barefoot bowls. Unfortunately the weather was still not kind so instead we had a games afternoon with the whackiest hat competition.

The games played were UNO, 500, Djenga and others. The laughing could be heard through the club. The hat competition winners were Anne Wilson for the whackiest hat, Liz Drew for the Peakiest, Cheryl Lucas for the creative 4 seasons hat and Angela Thornhill for the best cause hat. Hard to judge the best hat as there were some fabulous creations.

After a short break, we all met at the hotel at 6pm for the comedy hour. Everyone had to tell a Dad joke. Liz Drew was the first cab off the rank. After that the jokes were thick and fast. The judges, Judi and Lyn M kept looking at each other as if to say

"How the hell are we going to choose the best joke?" This was even tougher than the whackiest hat competition. But judge they did. The winners were Anne Mattison, Jennie Davie and Anne's winning jokes were "Why wouldn't you drink water from a toilet. Because of number 1 or 2" and "What is a naked whale called? Free Willie"

Jenni's joke was "The first time using an elevator was an uplifting experience, but the second time brought me down."

Paul's jokes were:

Where can single men over the age of 70 find younger women who are interested in them? Try a bookstore under fiction.

Three old guys are out walking. The first one says, "Windy, isn't it?"
The second one says, "No, it's Thursday!" The third one says, "So am I. Let's go get a beer."

You know you're getting older when you have a party and the neighbors don't realize it.

At the end of the joke telling, Judi read out some jokes from Kate, Anne Wilson's daughter. The jokes were all about the Peakies.

After the comedy hour dinner was served. A large number had the three course set menu which included Lamb shoulder, Barramundi and a few vegetable dishes and salads. According to those that had the lamb, it melted in your mouth. The barramundi was also delicious. Glenn said it was restaurant standard.

After dinner we gathered around the fireplace for Trivia. A couple of questions were repeated and one had an answer on the question page. Who won? Well, it was a draw with two teams winning. Not quite enough prizes to share, so Glenn and Patsy shared as did Brian and Di. After Trivia some went to bed, others stayed up enjoying the fire.

The next day was free and many Peakies went to the markets, visited the art places, went to the national park and then went home. An wonderful weekend!
